

THE ROBERT SAVAGE BIOLOGICAL IMAGE OF THE YEAR COMPETITION

Do you have a biological image that captures the beauty and complexity of living organisms? Did you take pictures or make videos as part of laboratory or field work? Submit your images to the 6th annual Robert Savage Biological Image of the Year Competition.

Submitted images will be judged by a panel of faculty scientists and artists. Winners will be announced at the Biology Department Picnic on Tuesday, May 6 and given a check awarded from the Savage Fund. This fund was established by students and colleagues to honor Professor Robert E. Savage, the first professor of Cell Biology at Swarthmore College.

Submission Deadline 9 am April 21st

For submission instructions please see the biology department web site <http://www.swarthmore.edu/biology.xml>