Elihu Burritt to "Dear Friend Lane"

Edinburgh
March 22 [1857]

Dear Friend Lane,

Do you know anything about Stockbridge in Hampshire or any person in it? A Juvenile Peace Society has been formed in Stockbridge, New York, U.S.A. and I should be glad to mate it with one in a town of the same name in England. I suppose you must live somewhere in the neighbourhood of Stockbridge, Hants, and if you can give me the name of some progressive man there whom I may address on the subject, I shall be much obliged. As I know of no Christchurch in America, I will give as a correspondent for your Juvenile P.S. one formed in Warren, Mass. U.S.A. Perhaps this address will be the best. "To the Secretary of the Juvenile Peace Society, care of Mrs George Trask, Warren, Mass. U.S.A." I will forward any communication free of postage. Let it be written on thin foreign post paper. I hope your J.P.S. may be able to send out such an address by the next steamer. Direct to Birmingham, as usual.

Ever yours,

Elihu Burritt
