Confidentiality is taken very seriously at Swarthmore College. We will not share your family’s private information with anyone outside our office. Paper documents will be shredded in a timely fashion under the supervision of our staff. Correspondence is generally sent only to the students who are responsible to share any and all relevant information with parents/legal guardians.
College Billing

One-half of your College bill is to be paid prior to each semester in accordance with our billing cycle. E-bills are distributed early in July and early in December. Students can access their e-bills through “mySwarthmore.” If your parents will be involved in paying your Swarthmore bill, be certain to arrange for their access by following instructions on the College’s Student Accounts website. Although College and federal funds will show as deductions on your College bill, funds from outside scholarships (see below) such as community or state scholarships/grants will not. You may deduct half of those amounts from the fall bill in anticipation of the funds reaching the College but they will not appear as credits on your bill until they are actually received. Funds in excess of the College bill will be refunded to students. One half of your financial aid resources will officially be disbursed at the beginning of each semester.

To assist in your financial planning, use the chart below to calculate how much of your Swarthmore College bill for the direct charges for tuition, fee, room, and board ($70,744) will be met with scholarship or grant. The remainder is your family’s share of 2019-2020 billed charges. You may wish to use the extra columns on this chart to compare our financial aid award package with those from other colleges or universities.

We have provided estimates, however; the amount you actually spend for books and supplies, personal expenses, or transportation depends on your spending choices.

When planning your budget for the coming year, please keep in mind that campus movies, lectures, parties, athletic events, and concerts are open to all students and free of charge.

Books and supplies: You should be prepared to purchase books and supplies when you arrive on campus. We suggest you visit our College and Community bookstore’s website for information about new, used, and rented book possibilities.

Travel expenses: Although transportation costs are considered a part of the aid decision, no advance money or reimbursement will be provided to you by the College. You and your family should be prepared to pay for those costs.

College Health Insurance for Aided Students

All students are required to have health insurance coverage. If you are not covered by your family’s health insurance, you must enroll in the College’s health insurance plan no later than June 15. Students who receive Swarthmore Scholarship support and who enroll on time with the College’s plan are eligible for a cost reduction. The Worth Health Center will send a notice about coverage in the spring. Visit the Worth Health Center’s website to read about coverage, to enroll in the College’s plan, or to opt out of the College’s plan by documenting your coverage under your family’s plan.

3. Expected Family Resources

Expected Parents Contribution

This is your parents’ fair share based upon our analysis of your family’s financial need. Basic demands on family resources such as costs for maintaining a family your size and taxes are considered. Also considered are parents’ needs to save for retirement and other younger children’s college educations. In most cases, standard demands on income rather than actual demands are considered. The need analysis utilized through the College Scholarship Service (CSS) of the College Board provides some guidance in our assessment.

Swarthmore considers families' special circumstances such as:
- Elder care and childcare expenses
- Cost of living in some areas of the country
- Unusually high out of pocket medical expenses
- Parents' repayments of loans for their own educations

Additional Information: Swarthmore reduces the influence of home equity in determining your financial need. We also reduce the influence of parents' investments and savings if they do not have retirement provisions from their employer. Parents' savings in their children's names are treated as parents' assets.

Student Summer Earnings Expected Contribution

We expect first-year students to have saved $2,000 from their summer earnings and continuing students to have saved $2,500 to help with their Swarthmore expenses. The College cannot increase our scholarship award if your summer earnings fall short of the stated expectations. This expectation is required even if you cannot find a job, cannot save enough, attend classes, choose not to work, choose to take a low-paying or volunteer position, or you are unable to work. You may be able to replace unearned summer funds by borrowing through the Federal Direct Loan program or by working more during the academic year.

Expected Student Asset Contribution

All student assets, presently liquid or not, are expected to be available for college. You will be expected to contribute at least 25% of your originally reported assets each year you are at Swarthmore, regardless of how and when you choose to spend those resources.
You will notice that the amount of financial aid we offer is equal to your need as we have assessed it. Most often, aid is awarded as a combination of scholarship and a campus job opportunity. In most cases, the first $2,100 of need is met with a campus job opportunity. Any need beyond that is met through one or more of the following sources: a Swarthmore College Scholarship; a grant through your state scholarship program; a Federal Pell Grant or Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG); or other national, regional or community-based scholarships.

Scholarships & Grants:

Swarthmore College Scholarship is “gift aid” from the College that need not be repaid. Scholarships are supported with the College’s endowed, restricted, or general funds. Many of these funds were provided by generous alumni and friends of the College, and you may be asked to provide a brief profile of your interests and activities for your donor. One half of your Swarthmore Scholarship will appear as a credit on your College bill each semester.

Each spring your family will be required to reapply for financial aid so that your continued financial need can be assessed. Returning students must complete their financial aid by March 1st, in order to receive a timely decision. Students are considered for Swarthmore Scholarship over the duration of eight semesters. This limit applies to our transfer students as well.

Federal Pell Grant eligibility is determined by the Federal government’s need analysis. If you receive a Pell Grant, it will be awarded initially as estimate until we review the results of your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FAFSA completion process helps to inform us about your eligibility for the Pell Grant and other federal aid.

Once you receive the results of your FAFSA application, the Federal Student Aid Report (SAR) will be emailed to you. If you receive Pell Grant funds, you may need to complete an additional step called Verification. If your Pell Grant eligibility changes after your information is verified, we will adjust your Swarthmore Scholarship so that your overall scholarship/grant support remains the same. One half of the Pell Grant will appear as a credit on your College bill each semester. Students who do not submit the FAFSA form on time or who do not respond to requests for additional information and complete Verification will not receive Swarthmore Scholarship in place of federal funding.

The IRS Data Retrieval Tool is used to automatically fill your FAFSA with the information you submitted to the IRS on your income tax return. If you have not yet utilized it, login to the FAFSA form and review the income sections and proceed from there. There is also a helpful video tutorial.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOG) is offered to eligible students from our limited federal allocation.
State Grants from the following states may be used at Swarthmore: (Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, and West Virginia). Any amount shown on your award letter is an estimate of your eligibility for state support. Each state determines your actual eligibility. If your state grant eligibility changes after your information is verified, we will adjust your Swarthmore Scholarship so that your overall scholarship/grant support remains the same. One half of the state grant will appear as a credit on your College bill each semester. Students who miss their state’s application deadline or who do not respond to requests for additional information will not receive Swarthmore Scholarship in place of state funding.

Other Resources

Other resources may include veterans’ educational benefits, state rehabilitation benefits, or tuition grants from parents’ employers. If you receive one of these benefits, but it is not listed on our award letter, or if you receive an amount different from what was reported, please let us know so that benefit can be factored into our aid decision. Please keep in mind that outside benefit aid will not replace parental contribution, since that figure represents parental capacity to contribute from their income and assets. These amounts will reduce Swarthmore Scholarship dollar for dollar. Funds obtained through crowd funding platforms or public solicitation may affect your financial aid decision.

Resident Assistants (RA)

Resident Assistants (RA) for 2019-2020 will be compensated $8,252 for their work. Of the $8,252, $4,600 will appear as a credit on your bill ($2,300 each semester) and $3,652 will come to you through the student payroll for your personal expenses ($1,826 each semester). RA compensation replaces the earning elements of the aid award, but does not affect the amount of your scholarship unless your financial aid package has a reduced summer earnings or campus job contribution. In these cases being an RA may impact your scholarship.

Student Employment on Campus

The Student Employment Office (SEO), coordinated by two student co-director interns, is available to help students with the job search process throughout the academic year. First-year students who wish to work on campus should attend our orientation session and job fair. Work aided students will be given hiring priority over non work aided students during the beginning of the fall semester. We have set an earnings amount on your award letter. This amount may be increased should you decide to work more than the seven (7) to eight (8) hours per week represented by the standard work aid award. Scholarship amounts are not affected by increases in work aid.

The Student Payroll Office, coordinated by two students, will answer questions about timesheets and paychecks. All students who work on campus are required to complete federal work eligibility forms. Students are paid directly on a bi-weekly basis. The funds are not credited to your student account. Please keep in mind that these funds won’t be available to pay the fall bill. The 2019-2020 student wage rates are not known at this time. The rates for 2018-19 were:

- Category 1 = $9.70/hour
- Category 2 = $10.00/hour
- Category 3 = $10.40/hour

5. Outside Scholarships

Outside Scholarships

In the late spring, first-year students will receive a survey via email from the Financial Aid Office asking for a listing of all outside scholarships that you expect to receive in the upcoming year. At that time, we will update your Financial Aid award and notify the Student Accounts Office that you are expecting these funds. If these amounts should change, please notify the Financial Aid Office immediately.

Your outside scholarships will first replace dollar for dollar your summer earnings expected contribution, which is $2,000 for your first year and $2,500 each subsequent year. If your outside scholarships exceed your summer earnings expected contribution, your campus job opportunity funding will be replaced next, which is listed as $2,100 on your award. Even if your work aid is reduced to $0, you will still be able to work on campus, if you choose. Should the total of your outside scholarships total more than both of these resources, $4,100 for first year students and $4,600 for students currently enrolled, then we will reduce your Swarthmore Scholarship to allow room for this resource. Please keep in mind that outside aid will not replace parental contribution which has been pre-determined from income and asset information.

Here are a few examples of how outside scholarships will impact first-year students with a summer earnings contribution of $2,000:

If you receive a $2,500 outside scholarship:

- The first $2,000 of the $2,500 outside scholarship reduces this first-year student’s summer earnings expectations of $2,000 (no visible change to the financial aid award).
- The $500 remaining of the outside scholarship then reduces the Campus Work Opportunity by $500 from $2,100 to $1,600
- The overall $2,500 of the outside scholarship is noted in the adjusted financial aid award.
- This increases the total financial aid award by the net difference of $2,000 from $49,550 to $51,550.
- No change is made to Swarthmore Scholarship.

If you receive a $5,000 outside scholarship:

- The first $2,000 of the $5,000 outside scholarship reduces this first-year student’s summer earnings expectations of $2,000 (no visible change to the financial aid award).
- The $3,000 remaining of the outside scholarship reduces the Campus Work opportunity from $2,100 to $0.
- The Swarthmore Scholarship is reduced by the remaining $900 from $47,450 to $46,550.
- The overall $5,000 of the outside scholarship is noted in the adjusted financial aid award.
- Swarthmore Scholarship decreases, and overall grant aid increases.
- Total financial aid awarded increases by $2,000 from $49,550 to $51,550.
Here are a few examples for currently enrolled students with a summer earnings contribution of $2,500:

If you receive a $2,500 outside scholarship:

<td>$0</td>
<td>$2,500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total Aid Award</td>
<td>$49,550</td>
<td>$52,050</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

1. The first $2,500 outside scholarship reduces this currently enrolled student's summer earnings expectations of $2,500 (No visible change to the financial aid award).
2. The overall $2,500 of the outside scholarship is noted in the adjusted financial aid award.
3. This increases the total financial aid award by the net difference of $2,500 from $49,550 to $52,050.
4. No change is made to Swarthmore Scholarship.

If you receive a $5,000 outside scholarship:

<td>$0</td>
<td>$5,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total Aid Award</td>
<td>$49,550</td>
<td>$52,050</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

1. The first $2,500 of the $5,000 outside scholarship reduces this currently enrolled student's summer earnings expectations from $2,500 to $0 (no visible change to the financial aid award).
2. The remaining $2,500 of the outside scholarship then reduces the Campus Work Opportunity $0.
3. The Swarthmore Scholarship is reduced by the remaining $400 from $47,450 to $47,050.
4. The overall $5,000 of the outside scholarship is noted in the adjusted financial aid award.
5. Total financial aid award increases by $2,500 from $49,550 to $52,050.

6. Off-Campus Study

Financial aid can travel with you to our many approved programs of study abroad and domestic exchange. Programs must be approved by our Off-Campus Study Office. Most study abroad programs do not offer campus work opportunities to fulfill that portion of your financial aid package, so other financing options may be available.

7. Satisfactory Academic Progress

The satisfactory academic progress policy for financial aid recipients can be found on our website.

8. Federal Aid Eligibility

Selective Service Registration

Eligibility for federal student aid funds is linked to compliance with Selective Service regulations. Those who cannot register should call or visit the director of financial aid (please do not write). The College has made a commitment to replace with Swarthmore funds any federal funds forfeited by those who are required, but cannot, register with Selective Service. The College has no special replacement funds, however; for any student who is not required to register.
Federal Student Aid Report (SAR)

The family contribution, noted on the SAR, was determined through the FAFSA application process but will be different than the family contribution determined by Swarthmore. This federal family contribution is used to determine your eligibility for federal or state aid and will not influence our Swarthmore Scholarship decisions.

9. Living Off-Campus

Students living off campus (but not with their families) are assumed to face room and board expenses equal to the amounts the College charges. The budget used in determining your aid eligibility is the same whether you live on or off campus. Although College aid cannot exceed your College bill, you may use Federal, state, other outside aid, or family resources to meet off-campus living expenses.

10. Need Assessment Process

Financial Aid from Year to Year

We are committed to meeting all demonstrated financial need as determined by our need analysis which is reviewed at least annually upon completion of the financial aid process. There are two deadlines:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Completed Application Received</th>
<th>Financial Aid Decision</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>By The Financial Aid Office</td>
<td>Released to the Family</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>November 1, 2018</td>
<td>Late May 2019</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>March 1, 2019</td>
<td>Late June 2019</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Your financial aid package may change from year to year, usually for the following reasons:

- Siblings’ enrollment in an undergraduate program
- Increases and decreases in family income
- An increase in College charges
- Change in your family circumstances

Dependency Status

A student's dependency is set at the time of admission for institutional aid purposes; and it will remain throughout the length of the degree program, regardless of the length of time the student remains in the degree program.
When parents are not together

The College expects that parents will pay from current or future resources what they have been determined to be able to pay. Although we cannot increase our scholarship aid to fill the gap if a parent declines his/her responsibility, you may be able to borrow. Let us know in writing if you wish to borrow.

Reconsideration Request

Requests for reconsideration of financial aid will be considered upon receipt of new information or a change in circumstances that has impacted your family financially and beyond their control. Please reach out to your assigned financial aid director (below).

Requests for reconsideration for returning students are considered under the same circumstances for students up to their seventh semester of enrollment. Reviews by the Financial Aid Committee occur at all times throughout the year.

Taxation of scholarships/grants

2019-20 scholarships or grants in excess of tuition and the student activity fee will be considered, under an IRS ruling, to be taxable income and must be reported to the IRS by April 2020. Students who owe federal tax as a result of receiving grants may request assistance if in possession of a resulting tax bill. Please contact the Financial Aid Office in the immediate February following the tax year to inquire.

Net Price Calculator

We offer the Net Price Calculator to help some prospective students with an estimate of the aid they might receive and the net price to be paid by the family. The net price calculator provides best estimates for students, whose biological parents are together, are not self-employed, and who live and earn inside the United States. The results of the net price calculator are for information purposes only to families and are not a guarantee of financial aid; which is determined ultimately by the College.

11. Financing Options - Swarthmore College Payment Plan

The Swarthmore College Payment Plan provides a flexible, interest-free, monthly payment option for tuition, room, board and fees. The program enrollment takes place each semester with three separate plan duration options available. The first installment payment (plus a $35 application fee) is due at the time of enrollment. Students with past due account balances may not be eligible for participation.

For the fall semester, you may enroll beginning June 1st. For the spring semester, you may enroll beginning November 1st. Participants are encouraged to join on these respective dates to achieve the lowest monthly payment.

Enrollment for the Payment Plan is online; please visit the payment plan website for further information.
