NSF REU Linguistics Field School
2018 Application

Please answer the following questions and submit the responses to linguistics@swarthmore.edu by May 1st, 2018. Applications must be no more than two-pages long, written in 12 point font, and in PDF file format.

In addition to the application, you should ensure that a letter of recommendation is submitted on your behalf by May 1st, 2018. Letters should be emailed directly by the letter writer to linguistics@swarthmore.edu with your name as the subject line. The selection process is highly competitive and detailed letters that address the student's potential for success in this type of program will be most helpful in determining the final cohort.

For more information about the program itself, see the webpage:
