

Special Major in Linguistics & Languages Language Requirements

A total of 6 credits in Linguistics (<http://www.swarthmore.edu/linguistics/academic-program>)

At least 3 credits in each of 2 languages, as follows:

For Arabic:

- 3 credits numbered above 003
- Courses in translation will not count towards fulfillment of the 3-credit requirement.

For Chinese:

- 3 credits numbered above 004B
- One of the 3 credits must be Chinese 033 (classical Chinese)

For French:

- 3 credits numbered 014 or above
- Two of the 3 credits must be completed on the Swarthmore Campus. Note that AP and IB credits will not count toward the credit requirement and FREN 016 can only be counted once.

For German Studies:

- 3 credits numbered 008 or above
- GMST 008; GMST 020; GMST 091
- In place of GMST 091, a seminar may be taken.

For Japanese:

- 1 course numbered 4 or above
- 2 courses numbered 11 or above or a seminar

For Russian:

- 3 credits numbered above 004
- One of the 3 credits must be 010 or 011 (and both may be counted)
- Students are especially encouraged to include a seminar and/or advanced language course taught at Bryn Mawr College

For Spanish:

- 3 credits numbered above 022.
- One of the 3 credits must be SPAN 022 or 023 but not both.
- Courses in translation will not count towards the fulfillment of the 3-credit requirement.
- In special circumstances, by permission of the Spanish section, one of the introductory writing courses (008, 010, 011) could count toward the 3-credit requirement.