Humanities Division Summer Opportunities and Research

OPPORTUNITY NAME	DESCRIPTION
Morrell-Potter Summer Stipend in Creative Writing	The Department of English Literature is pleased to announce its annual Morrell - Potter Summer Stipend in Creative Writing. This prize of $4500, intended to enable a summer's writing project, will be awarded to a student poet or fiction writer of exceptional promise, to be chosen by the Department's writing faculty. English Literature majors or minors in this year's junior class who expect to return to the campus in the fall are invited to submit manuscripts of no more than 10 pages, in either poetry or fiction, along with a brief description of the project they hope to pursue.
Arthur Obermayer '52 International Summer Internship	The Arthur S. Obermayer '52 International Summer Internship was established in 2005 and is intended to broaden and enrich the experience of a Swarthmore student. The grant shall be awarded with preference to a domestic student who is studying in a major that may not inherently offer an international opportunity.
Simon Preisler Endowment for Student Internships	Richard A. Barasch '75 established the Simon Preisler Memorial Endowment to honor the memory of his father-in-law, Auschwitz survivor, and to create a permanent memorial of the human devastation that occurred during the Holocaust and the lack of adequate global response to the tragedy. Preference will be given to students pursuing internships and research fellowships related to genocide and other large-scale violent conflicts, projects involving peaceful prevention or intervention, non-violent resistance, or local peacemaking, reconciliation and healing initiatives.
Project Japan Summer Research Fellowship	The Project Japan Fund supports summer research and study in Japan. Priority will be given to students who have adequate mastery of the Japanese language to conduct projects that explore significant issues challenging Japan and possible ways to address the issues and, where practical, undertake initiatives towards that address. The selection committee will also consider proposals for summer language study or other academic study in Japan, if combined with research into social issues or a project for community service or engagement. Student travel, living, and project expenses may be covered. The fellowship is awarded by a committee based in the Japanese Section of Modern Languages and Literatures Department. Successful applicants will be asked to participate in a presentation on their summer activities following their return.
