

Meeting Determined Need

Following are examples of how a student may receive differing financial aid offers (“packages”) from two different colleges/universities of varying yearly costs of attendance and/or varying family contributions and/or varying levels of meeting determined need with need-based financial aid.

Two college financial aid offers; same yearly cost; differing % of determined need met

Two college financial aid offers; differing yearly cost; differing % of determined need met

Two college financial aid offers; differing yearly cost; differing % of determined need met

