TUITION GRANT PROGRAM

Swarthmore College provides college tuition grants to children of eligible employees. The following will describe the intent, eligibility requirements, and administrative procedures that govern the program.

Intent

The Tuition Grant Program is designed to assist Swarthmore College employees in providing for their children’s educational needs. It demonstrates Swarthmore’s abiding belief in the value of higher education and the importance of choice. The intent of program is to form a partnership with employees that results in improved opportunities for their children to attend the accredited college, university, junior college, or technical school of their choice. It is not the intent of the program to pay the full cost of such an education, but rather to pay a portion of tuition costs, regardless of the school chosen. In this way, the program makes it possible for students and their families to consider a wider variety of institutions than they ordinarily might. Paying for a percentage of tuition and related costs (up to a stated limit) rather than a flat amount may result in some students receiving a larger grant than others; however it also protects the integrity of the program as an accessible resource for all students, regardless of their choice of school.

Eligibility

Eligible children are the legally dependent children, adopted or natural, or step-children of individuals employed by Swarthmore College. The eligible child must be attending an accredited undergraduate college, university, junior college, or technical school on a full-time basis and be in good standing at their institution.

Employee eligibility is as follows:

- Regular, benefits eligible, full-time (defined as an FTE of at least .75) faculty and staff who have been regular employees of the College for five years at the time their child begins the academic year at an accredited undergraduate college, university, junior college, or technical school.

- Regular, benefits-eligible, part-time (defined as an FTE of .50 – .74) faculty and staff whose principal employment is at Swarthmore College and who have been regular part-time employees of the College for five years at the time their child begins the academic year at an accredited undergraduate college, university, junior college, or technical school.

The Tuition Grant Program will also be available to dependent children of:

- A retired or permanently disabled employee who at the time of retirement or disablement had satisfied the employment requirement stated above, provided the children were in the ninth grade or beyond at the time of retirement or disablement.

- A deceased employee who dies in active service, and who at the time of death had satisfied the employment requirement stated above.

- An employee on an approved leave from Swarthmore College, who at the time of such leave was a regular full-time employee for at least five years, as described in the first “Eligibility” bullet point, above.
Exception

Regular, benefits eligible faculty and staff who have been employed for less than five years with the College at the time their child enters college are eligible for a modified benefit if their previous employer had a similar program and they were eligible for the program at the time they accepted employment with Swarthmore College. In these cases, the College will honor the lesser of the terms of the previous program, or Swarthmore’s program until Swarthmore’s five year employee eligibility requirement is achieved.

Regular, benefit eligible faculty and staff who have been rehired by the College and who were eligible for the tuition grant program at the time they left the College are immediately eligible for the benefit.
